

Sustainability Tutorial

Email template

Dear [name of recipient(s)]

[I / We're] writing to let you know that UN's first Sustainability Tutorial, designed for UN staff, is now available at www.greeningtheblue.org/sustainability-tutorial.

The tutorial highlights the work that is underway across the UN to improve its own environmental performance and the actions staff can take to contribute to that effort.

UNDP and UNEP have developed a one-hour animation in which we follow two UN staffers – Stick and Bean – as they overcome the challenge of being green in an average UN office. The tutorial has been developed in consultation with the Issue Management Group on Sustainability Management as well as specialist experts both internal and external to the UN.

[I / We] invite you to undertake the tutorial, track your own environmental footprint and see how you compare to your colleagues and others across the UN as a whole.

Promotional materials are also available from the Greening the Blue website.

The tutorial can be seen at: www.greeningtheblue.org/sustainability-tutorial

Kind regards
